Once again, the Philippines and the Philippine Banking System proved its mettle in 2009 as the global financial crisis eventually graduated into a global economic crisis. With hard earned lessons from the 1997 Asian crisis and relatively lower corporate and bank leverage, the banking system remained healthy, well capitalized and more profitable. Credit should also be given to prudent regulation by the BSP, savvy management by local bankers, and expansion of local capital markets. After the end of the year, rating agency Moody’s Investors Service upgraded the outlook to stable from negative of 12 banking systems in Asia Pacific, the Philippines included, on the basis of improving local economic prospects and stabilizing global conditions, and improving access to international debt and money markets.

At BPI, our strategy of ‘Back to Basics’ deposit taking and lending approach in 2009 delivered strong business volume and revenue growth. Our significant 33% growth in net income was supported by a 15% increase in revenues.

For deposits, we focused on low cost deposits and offered BPI Maxi Saver, BPI Get Started and BPI Save-Up, a deposit product line-up to meet customers’ financial needs. This was augmented by the ‘Gift with Account Opening’ and ‘Real Thrills’ instant gift for deposit account build up promotional campaigns. These products dramatically reversed our low cost float to bought funds ratio from 47:53 to 54:46.

We always believe that innovation and our 24/7 banking channels will service our clients better and faster beyond the confines of our branches. We thus increased the number of our cash acceptance machines. Our BPI Express Online ranked first among financial institutions with a monthly splash page hit of 4.1 million. We did not only expand the availability of BPI Express Mobile to SMART
Communications subscribers, but also made the mall accessible to individuals and entrepreneurs. Our BPI Express Phone continued to process over 12 million transactions and services.

The global economic crisis resulted in more discriminating customers and a shift towards value oriented spending patterns. Having provided the more appropriate proposition, our credit card business outperformed the industry with a 22% growth in billings, becoming the 2nd most used card with a 16.4% market share. As a testament to this, the market has voted BPI as the Best Card Issuer in the Philippines in the Lafferty Southeast Asia Payment Cards Awards.

Our consumer lending arm, BPI Family Savings Bank (BFSB), ventured into several firsts to provide a complete package to our clients. We held the country’s first Nationwide Auto Madness in March with over a hundred participating dealer partners to jump start auto sales. We also entered into a pioneering partnership with Home Depot to provide discounts and raffle prizes to homeowners. We provided a complete financial solution for the SME entrepreneur through the Grow Your SME Business Solutions which offers business loans, online cash management bundles, check-accessed credit line, and savings and investment products. For assisting SMEs, BFSB was the first bank to be given a Special Citation Award for Franchise-Friendly Bank by the Philippine Franchise Association.

Corporate loan demand came primarily from our middle market and SME customers in the construction, real estate, trading, and health care industries. Moreover, additional demand came from our Metro Manila customers in the food manufacturing, pharmaceuticals and services sectors, thereby resulting in an 11% increase in their portfolio. Loan demand from the education and tourism industries further contributed to the 21% robust expansion of the provincial loans. On the other hand, loans to the multinational companies and the top tier domestic corporations were challenged by the high level of liquidity and alternative funding sources. Our overall net loan growth on the surface appeared weak at 2%, but stripped of the multinationals, we actually grew 9%.

With a higher Cash Management customer base and transaction volume of 17% and 16%, respectively, our BPI ExpressLink software and servers were further strengthened. The existing infrastructure can thus support the planned deployment of new service offerings in 2010.
For the third consecutive year, our BPI Capital was the Joint Issue Manager for the Bureau of Treasury’s Retail Treasury Bond (RTB) which generated P114.4 billion for the national treasury. We also acted as Sole Issue Manager and Lead Underwriter for Globe Telecom’s fixed rate retail bonds and Ayala Land Inc.’s Homestarter Bonds and as Issue Manager and Lead Manager/Bookrunner for Petron Corporation’s fixed rate issue, the largest corporate issue of its kind in the country. For generating the most number of trades in the Philippine Dealing System in 2008, BPI Capital was recognized as the Top Fixed Income Brokering Participant for Retail Transactions.

Our Financial Markets Group continued to play an active role in the Philippine financial markets, ensuring adequate liquidity for its clients. We sourced P27 billion in lower cost funds to cushion the impact of lower interest rates on our net interest income. We also obtained our Type 2 Derivatives license from the BSP to capitalize on opportunities offered by cross currency swaps and non-deliverable forward markets. BPI, as well as some of our traders were recognized as one of the most Astute Investors in Asian G3 bonds by The Asset.

BPI Asset Management outperformed the industry as it grew by 50% and captured 25% of the market. Our complete line of trust products, state-of-the-art system infrastructure, and Registered Financial Consultants as part of the Investment Management team earned for us the Best Asset Management Company in the Philippines award in The Asset Triple A Investment Awards 2009.

We serviced 26% of the country’s OF remittances and named as the Best Commercial Bank Respondent on OF Remittances by the BSP. We expanded our network in regions with high concentration of OFs. In Saudi Arabia, we forged strategic tie-up agreements with National Commercial Bank, the largest bank in the Kingdom, and The Bank of Albilad.
Prior to our bancassurance joint venture with The Philippine American Life Insurance Company, Ayala Life introduced two Single Pay endowment products, the EDP5 Plus and the EDP7 Plus. At BPI/MS, we obtained our ISO 9001:2008 certification, launched a web-based motor claims reporting and processing system, and processed more than 1,800 flood and typhoon insurance claims of our policyholders.

On the human resource side, we pioneered a BPI - Harvard Business School Publishing (HBSP) Leadership Development Program for 275 senior leaders and first level managers to include Cebu and Davao colleagues. This interactive distance learning where HBS professors are beamed in from Boston to Manila is a first for HBSP and a Philippine bank.

The global economy is poised to return to positive growth in 2010 though the challenge remains as government stimulus are eventually withdrawn. We believe that the Philippine economy will post accelerating growth, ably supported by a mild rebound in merchandise trade, expansion in consumer and government spending, and sustained overseas Filipino remittances.

For BPI, we will approach the coming year with cautious optimism. We will continue with our successful ‘Back to Basics’ approach. Through our Bank Anywhere and BPI 24/7 programs, we will constantly make banking more accessible and more affordable to a great majority of Filipinos.
